

MISSING MAN TURNS UP AT KEY WEST

Charles Shrewsberry, Evidently Planning Trip To Cuba or To Panama

Charles Shrewsberry, who mysteriously disappeared from his home on the Taylor's Fork pike several weeks ago, has been located. He is at Key West, Florida. He is preparing to take ship there either for Cuba or Panama; or maybe, South America, but will hardly make the long journey, for a warrant was wired to the authorities there by Sheriff P. S. Whitlock, to arrest the young man and hold him until a local officer can go after him. Shrewsberry will be charged with deserting his wife and two infant children. This is a serious offense in Kentucky, and he will have to stand trial upon his return to Kentucky.

The young man "gave himself away" Monday morning when he telegraphed to County Judge W. K. Price asking that official to wire authorities at Key West that Shrewsberry is an American citizen. This was necessary in securing a passport to leave the United States. Judge Price, who had heard of the mysterious disappearance of the young man a few weeks ago, immediately reported the matter to his father, Frank Shrewsberry, a prominent farmer of the Kirksville section, and Mr. Shrewsberry phoned in to Sheriff Whitlock and requested him to wire the authorities at Key West to arrest and hold the young man until some one could be sent for him. At the time of his disappearance young Shrewsberry had just drawn about $3,400 from a bank, and he also had a good automobile.

(By Associated Press)

Mrs. Shifflett was taken at once to Dr. Williams' office and after recovering partially from the shock she was taken home.

HUN DELEGATES LEAVE PARIS SUDDENLY

Paris, Nov. 24.—The supreme council decided today to send the German delegation here a note in reply to the one submitted by the Germans informing the council of the departure for Berlin of plenipotentiaries sent in connection with the carrying out of the armistice terms which Germany has been informed she must sign before the peace treaty is put into effect. The note's contents were not made public.

The departure of the German plenipotentiaries was sudden and is regarded in American peace delegation circles as having a close connection with the failure of the American senate to ratify the treaty. They do not agree however with the majority of the French criticisms that the Germans are using the senate's failure to ratify as a pretext to avoid the fulfillment of the peace terms, but rather that the Germans are hesitating over the loss of what they consider counterpoise to the viewpoints of former European enemies through the absence of American members from the commission charged with execution of the treaty.

FORMER MADISON BOY NOW RICH FARMER

Hon. Jesse M. Alverson, of Bourbon county, visited his mother, Mrs. Mattie Alverson and sister, Miss Rose Alverson here Sunday and part of Monday.

A short time ago he sold out his paper at Georgetown, and bought a handsome farm near Millersburg. He gave around $200 an acre for it, and has recently refused over $350 an acre for it, and is holding it at $400. Mr. Alverson served as Clerk of the State Senate for several terms, after representing Lincoln county in the legislature for several sessions. He says he is through with politics now, but will always take an interest in democratic success—of which there seems to have been very little recently.

GOOD NEWS FROM CLAY COUNTY COAL

Government Places High Grade On Fuel From D. B. Shackelford's Rich Mines

D. B. Shackelford received news from Washington Monday that the government has classified coal taken from his Clay county fields at the high grade "Blue Gem" coal—a little better in fact, than the Blue Gem.

This means that his 4,000 acres of holding there will prove immensely valuable for the entire tract is very rich with coal at a shallow level. Three mines are now in operation, and as soon as labor can be secured will produce an immense amount of fuel. Mr. Shackelford receives a royalty of 50 cents on each ton of coal that is mined from his holdings. Mr. Shackelford spent last week at the mines.

A prominent local coal dealer has gone to Clay county fields, to secure several cars of this coal. He has assurance that he will get it as Mr. Shackelford personally requested the operators to let him have it for his home town people, and the promise was given that it would come to Richmond.

To Get Back To Work In Coal Mines, and Higher Price On Fuel May Come At Once

(By Associated Press)
Louisville, Nov. 24.—According to Kenneth U. McGuire, of the Harlan Coal Company, coal operators in Southeastern Kentucky today posted notices offering striking miners an increase amounting to 30 per cent for day labor and 12 to 15 per cent for "loading."

Various meetings are taking place today, it was said, between operators and miners, to explain the offer.

It is also said there is a possibility of an increase in the price of coal 40 to 65 cents a ton.

About 22,000 miners are employed in the district in which is also included part of Tennessee.

PREDICTS HIGHER WEED PRICE HERE

Earl Curtis Just Back From Carolina Markets, Brings Good News To Growers

Predictions of a tobacco market, on an average 15 cents higher, than last year, were made by Earl Curtis, well known tobacco buyer, who is at home for a few days, just from Williams-town, North Carolina, where he has been engaged during the season just closing there. Mr. Curtis will soon go to Paris, where he will represent G. O. Tuck & Co., on the Bourbon county breaks during the coming season. He has a most responsible position with this firm, which has headquarters at Louisville. He will do the buying for the firm and have charge of the redryer and stemmery, also. Mr. Curtis severed his connection within the American Tobacco Company several months ago to go with the Tuck Company. He represented the American Company on the Richmond breaks for several years, and is regarded as one of the best posted tobacco men in the game today.

Mr. Curtis says that the Carolina market has been very good all season. Principally bright and cigarette leaf is grown there. He believes that the upward tone of prices there will be equally reflected when the Kentucky burley market opens December 3rd, which will, of course be good news to the many tobacco growers of Madison county.

Definite announcement has not yet been made as to who will succeed Mr. Curtis as local representative of the American Tobacco Company. It is understood, however, that Wearan Kennedy, another Richmond young man who has made good in the big game, may be their man here. Mr. Kennedy has been buying for the American for some time. W. S. Patton has been announced to succeed E. W. Glass as the Liggett & Myers representative on the Richmond breaks. Mr. Glass has been transferred to Paris.

A report issued by the Co-operative Crop Reporting Service of the Department of Agriculture of North Carolina states that of North Carolina's present tobacco crop, estimated at 285,000,000 lbs., already, 207,206,553 pounds have been reported sold.

Estimating reasonably for the few warehouses that have failed to report 214,110,753 pounds, or 75 per cent of the farmers' tobacco crop of 1919 has been sold at an average price of $48.35 per 100 pounds. The October sales reported amounted to 102,635,197 lbs. The total sales were 117,540,363 lbs., averaging $66.85 per 100 pounds.

Fourteen of the southern markets have sold more than 5,000,000 pounds each so far this season and there have been 190 warehouses operating on 65 markets. The estimated yield of this year's tobacco is 550 pounds per acre, averaging 80 per cent in quality. The final condition reported was 68 per cent of a full crop.

The farm yield per acre of the general tobacco crop of the United States is 742 pounds; the quality averaging 32 per cent. The 1919 estimate of production is 1,316,553,000 pounds and last year's crop 1,340,019,000 pounds, North Carolina producing 320,000,000 pounds of the latter.

WEAREN KENNEDY TO BUY ON RICHMOND MARKET

Mr. Wearan Kennedy got home Sunday night from Wilson, N. C., after a most successful season. He reports a splendid market in the south and, like Mr. Curtis, predicts better prices for burley on the Kentucky breaks. He confirmed reports that he will buy for the American Tobacco Company on the Richmond breaks. This will be good news to the many friends here of this popular young man. He has risen rapidly in the service of this big company, and the fact that he has been assigned to the Richmond market has his allies have received quick recognition.

RECORD WEEK PRICE AT LOUISVILLE

The Louisville Times said last week: A record price for Burley tobacco of the 1919 crop was reached today on the Louisville breaks when highest grade Burley of the 1919 crop sold at the remarkably high figure of $80 per hundred pounds, a hoghead quantity. This equals the high record price reached here last winter for the 1918 crop, to bacco. All grades are stronger than in the wholesale district report, and warehousemen are sure a new high record is certain to be established in a very short time. November 24.—Packer's News, Chicago.
